Overview

Initially called Wichita Area Technical College (WATC), Wichita State University (WSU) Tech is dedicated to serving business and industry in south-central Kansas through the delivery of a comprehensive portfolio of programs and services. Faculty and staff strive to develop a highly trained workforce and give Kansas employers a competitive advantage. The program is housed at the National Center for Aviation Training (NCAT), a facility built by Sedgwick County.

WSU Tech is the result of an affiliation between WSU and WATC in 2017. Sedgwick County had provided direct operating support to WATC through 2017. After the affiliation was approved by the State of Kansas, a joint decision between WSU and County officials led to the elimination of the County's direct operating support to WATC and the reduction of funding provided by WSU to the County for the NCAT facility.

Board of County Commissioners County Manager WSU Tech

Strategic Goals:

- Provide a national center for aviation training where aviation research and training come together
- Create a facility campus where people can go for retraining, traditional credit based training, or specialized/customized training that is primarily for non-credit hours

Highlights

- County funding to WSU Tech was eliminated for the 2018 fiscal year, but the agreement was made after the 2018 budget was adopted
- WSU funding to the County for the NCAT facility likewise was eliminated in 2018; the funding was included as revenue to the County's Bond & Interest program
- No funding has been or will be included in the Technical Education budget in 2019 and beyond
