FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Working Well Conference To Be Held September 29th

(Sedgwick County, Kansas)— The Sedgwick County Health Department in conjunction with the Health & Wellness Coalition will hold the Working Well Conference on Thursday, September 29, 2005, from 8:00am-4:30pm at the Radisson Broadview Hotel, 400 West Douglas Ave., Wichita, KS.

The Working Well Conference is a summit for employers, health plans, providers and government agencies to promote physical activity, good nutrition, and healthy lifestyles for the workplace. National and local speakers, such Dr. James Early, Jim Petrich, and Dr. Michael O'Donnell, will share experiences with worksite wellness programs and the cost-benefit for employers.

The Working Well Conference will focus on providing information about:

- Return on investment for worksite wellness programs; economic benefits
- Employee morale & retention benefits of worksite wellness programs
- Best practices for developing worksite wellness programs
- Worksite policies
- Local examples of successful programs
