SEDGWICK COUNTY LAUNCHES ONLINE CHECKBOOK

(Sedgwick County, Kan) – For many years, Sedgwick County has worked to find ways to make county government more open and transparent. We have many tools available to accomplish this goal; a new tool called the Sedgwick County Checkbook will allow residents to search and review Sedgwick County government's financial records, or more simply, our checkbook. Users can search revenues and expenditures by category of fund, functional area or vendor. Payroll information is NOT included in the Checkbook.

Most of what we do at Sedgwick County is, and should be, open to the public. There are, of course, exceptions – most often in areas where personal or health-related information is involved and HIPAA procedures apply. We hold that information in the highest trust and security. However, it is our continuing goal in providing quality public services to be as thoughtful, open and transparent as possible.

Access the Sedgwick County Checkbook by visiting sedgwickcounty.org.
