RIPRAP

GENERAL

This specification controls the furnishing and installation of Stone Riprap to control erosion at storm water sewer outlets and other areas requiring erosion protection. Riprap shall be installed to the lines, grades and dimensions as shown on the plans.

MATERIAL

STONE – Stone for riprap Material shall consist of individual fragments which are dense, sound, resistant to abrasion and free of cracks, seams or other defects which would increase the destruction by water and frost actions. Material proposed for use in work shall meet the following requirements:

Deleterious Substances – Stone for riprap shall be free of earth, soapstone, shale, coal, and other easily disintegrated material that would decrease the durability of the material after placement.

Soundness – Stone for riprap when tested for soundness with magnesium sulfate in accordance with ASTM-C88 shall have a maximum loss of 18% by weight.

Abrasion – The percentage of wear of the stone riprap material shall be less than 40% when tested by the Los Angeles Abrasion Test, ASTM-C131.

Absorption – Stone for riprap shall have a maximum absorption of 3.5%, as determined by ASTM-C127

Filter Course Material – Filter course material shall meet the same quality requirements of the stone for riprap as outlined above.

Broken Concrete – Broken Concrete, if so indicated on the plans, may be used in lieu of stone, provided it meets all quality and size requirements. Additionally, all exposed steel reinforcement shall be cut off flush with the surface of the concrete. Large, flat pieces of broken concrete or long sections of curb and gutter will not be allowed. Sizes of individual pieces shall be compatible with the total thickness to be constructed.

Stone for riprap shall meet the following gradation requirements:

Minimum Percent Heavier Than:

Class	1000lb	500 lb	250 lb	125 lb	75 lb	10 lb
Heavy	0	50			90
Light		0	50	70		90

Stone for filter course Material shall meet the following gradation requirements:

Percent Retained:

Class	6"	5"	4"	2"	1"	3/8" No 4
Heavy	0	5-25		40-60		75-95
Light			0-5	10-40	25-60	55-85 70-95

INSTALLATION

Stone riprap shall be either "Heavy" or "Light" as indicated on the plans. Heavy stone riprap shall be constructed 24" in thickness and shall be placed on heavy filter course material 9" in thickness. Light stone riprap shall be constructed 18" in thickness and shall be placed on light filter course material 6" in thickness. Stone riprap shall be placed on the prepared filter course so as to produce a reasonably well-graded mass with a minimum practicable percentage of void. Stone riprap shall be placed to its full course thickness in one prepared operation without displacing the filter course material. Placement of stone on the slope and in toe walls shall be accomplished by controlled dumping directly in place. Large stones shall be well-distributed and the entire mass of stones in their final position shall be stable and free of pockets of small stones and clusters of large ones. Rearrangement of individual pieces by hand may be required to obtain a tight surface. A tolerance of plus or minus three inches from the lines and grades shown on the plans will be allowed in the finished riprap surface.

Placing stone riprap by dumping into chutes or any other method likely to cause segregation will not be permitted. Bulldozing of stone from the upper banks will not be permitted. Use of a drag line or similar equipment operated from the top of the bank to pull the stone into position on the upper slope will be permitted.

Toe walls shall be constructed along all unprotected edges of stone riprap. Thickness of the toe wall shall be the same as that specified for the riprap (not including filter course). Toe walls shall extend a minimum of 2 feet below the bottom of the filter course material or as detailed on the plans. Toe wall construction shall be grouted in place for the full depth from the bottom of the toe wall to the top surface of the riprap for the full thickness of the toe wall.

Riprap construction, including toe walls, which is to be constructed below normal water surface of creeks, rivers or ponds, shall be accomplished by the constructing coffer dams, sheet piling or other approved methods to keep construction area free of standing water and reasonably dry. Cofferdams, sheet piling, etc. shall remain in place until grouted toe walls are properly cured.

Grout for toe walls and for riprap surface, when so indicated on the plans, shall consist of one part Type 1 Portland Cement, three parts fine aggregate and sufficient water to form a plastic mix. The grout mixture shall be poured and broomed into the voids around the rock until all such voids are completely filled. Grout for stone riprap shall be cured in the same manner as specified in Section 03010 "Concrete Work".
