PROCLAMATION

A. PROCLAMATION DECLARING OCTOBER 1997 AS "BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH."

Chairman Winters said, “Commissioners, we know that Commissioner Betsy Gwin has had a special interest in a number of projects involving breast cancer and a Race for the Cure in a number of communities. Betsy is going to read this Proclamation and present this next item.”

Commissioner Gwin said, “Thank you Mr. Chairman and Commissioners. Good morning. As a breast cancer survivor, I’m please to be able to read this into the record.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, in 1997 more than 180,000 women in the United States will learn for the first time that they have breast cancer, and more than 40,000 will lose their lives; and

WHEREAS, the majority of breast cancers occur in women without any family history of the disease and this year in America 1,400 men will be diagnosed with breast cancer; and

WHEREAS, breast cancer is the most common cancer in African-American women and the second leading cause of cancer death among African-American women and the leading cause of death for women between the ages of 35 and 54; and

WHEREAS, early detection is the key to survival, and a greater quality of life;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that Tom Winters, Chairman of the Board of Sedgwick County Commissioners, does hereby proclaim October 1997 as, "BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH"

in Sedgwick County, and encourage citizens to participate in the numerous scheduled events including the American Cancer Society Breast Cancer Forum, October 9, and the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation Race For The Cure, October 11, 1997.”

Chairman Thomas G. Winters Aye

Commissioner Gwin said, “Thank you. Today we have two recipients of the Proclamation. If Defrina Johnson and Gaylen Nelson would come forward, I will introduce them. Defrina, we’ll give you your copy first. Defrina is representing the American Cancer Society. She is their breast cancer control specialist. There’s your copy.”

Ms. Defrina Johnson said, “Well, we found out that there is a need to educate our women about breast cancer so we decided that on October 9, 1997, we wanted to do a breast cancer forum so the community will be able to come to the Broadview Hotel and ask questions of the medical professionals we will have available. This will be a night of inspiration as well as education because we will have breast cancer survivors who will be modeling for us that evening as well. So we’re asking that everyone throughout the City of Wichita and surrounding areas participate. Also, on October 12, we will have a sister to sister tea that Sylvia Donovit, the author of ‘African-American Women Speak Out About Breast Cancer.’ will be at Wichita State University to do a presentation for us as well. So we’re asking the community to also be involved in that as well. Thank you.”
Regular Meeting, October 8, 1997

Commissioner Gwin said, “Our next acceptor is Gaylen Nelson. Besides being an employee of the Health Department, Gaylen is the President of the Mid-Kansas Chapter of the Susan B. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. Gaylen, there’s yours. You want us to hold this one up?”

Ms. Gaylen Nelson said, “Thank you very much. We appreciate the fact that the Commissioners are recognizing the importance of breast cancer awareness, especially this month. Betsy and Defrina are holding up the Proclamation that Linda Graves presented to Betsy on behalf of the Governor of Kansas. He signed the Proclamation last month declaring October Breast Cancer Awareness Month here in Kansas. Linda presented this to Betsy. It will be hung somewhere in the Health Department, not sure where, probably one of the conference rooms. I hope it will be very visible.

“We do appreciate your support. As you know, Race for the Cure is this Saturday morning. I encourage all of you to attend. This is a very important fund raising event. Seventy-five percent of the proceeds of this race stay here locally in Kansas to fund a free mammography program for medically under-served women. The other 25% go to national for other projects such as research. The Susan G. Komen Foundation is the leading funder of research in the area of breast cancer. Without their research we have no hope for a cure. So I hope you will all support the race this Saturday. Hope to see you there. Thank you very much.”

Commissioner Gwin said, “Thank you Gaylen. I got my race packet this morning, so I’m ready. Thank you Rose and Betty for being here, supporters of the Komen Foundation and breast cancer research and the cure. Thank you all.”

Chairman Winters said, “We certainly thank both of you ladies who were here to receive the Proclamation and Commissioner Gwin. All of us know first hand of Commissioner Gwin’s efforts to fund raise for this project and I have attended, with Commissioner Gwin, out at Clearwater, the Race for the Cure out there. She has worked very hard as have a number of citizens in this community have. We’re certainly thankful that we have citizens that are working hard on this project. We all pray that someday there will be a real cure. Madam Clerk, call the next item.”
PUBLIC HEARINGS

B. PUBLIC HEARINGS (FIVE) AND RESOLUTIONS (FIVE) REGARDING REQUESTS FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT TAX EXEMPTIONS.

Ms. Louanna Honeycutt Burress, Administrative Officer, Department of Housing and Economic Development, greeted the Commissioners and said, “As you are aware, Article 11, Section 13, of the Kansas State Constitution, allows local governments to grant economic development tax exemptions if as a result of the additional investment by a company results in the creation of new jobs for Kansas. Over the years, you’ve granted a number of these and I think three of the companies that have enjoyed these exemptions have created more than 172 jobs within our community. So as an economic developer I like to see the jobs created and I like to be able to go out and when I visit with a business owner who is considering investing locally in his or her business, I like to be able with confidence to tell them that Sedgwick County will work with you if you provide certain information and other commitments then Sedgwick County will consider giving you an exemption and you have done that over the years.

“Several years ago, the Legislature enacted a statute that requires local governments that give exemptions to conduct a cost benefit analysis before the exemption is granted. The reason for this and I think it is apparent is we receive tremendous benefits from these newly created jobs. However, there are costs, because for a specified period of time, personal and real property is exempted for these companies making the investments. When you do that you want to make sure that the company does continue to create the jobs and do what they say they are going to do. Now we have always done the required cost benefit analysis. Until recently, I didn’t have the computer capability in house to use the computerized model that Kansas, Inc., and the League of Municipalities made available to us so we did a manual calculation. I was told by people who are very involved in doing these analyses that this was a good estimate. After you approved the exemption then the material, the Resolution, it all goes to Topeka where the Board of Tax Appeals is charged with reviewing the process that we go through in granting the exemptions. Now they review only the process and not the merits. As local government, you are closer to the individuals making this investment and it is believed that you are in a better position than the State to determine the merits of this request.
Regular Meeting, October 8, 1997

“Several years ago, Kansas, Inc., and the League of Municipalities, came up with a computerized software for doing the cost benefit analysis. Until recently we did a manual analysis and it was always approved by BOTA (Board of Tax Appeals). Now in 1996 something happened that had not happened before. Sedgwick County had a request denied. Now I would like to point out that it is not just Sedgwick County. Jurisdictions all across the State experienced the same thing. So what we did is we wanted to find out what do we need to do to avoid this problem because the companies said they would create jobs. Frequently they create jobs just in anticipation of the expansion. When I go out and say we will consider an exemption, the Board of County Commissioners will consider an exemption, I want to have confidence that the State will support this.

“I have worked closely with Patricia Parker in the Legal Department and with the Appraiser, working through this, because we want to make sure that when we do send Resolutions to Topeka authorizing an exemption that there will not be any question, that the process has been followed completely. What we decided might be the cleanest thing to do is that we would go back and ask you to reconsider these exemptions that you have already taken action on. I should point out that in 1996 when we had the one request denied, we held on to all the other requests because we had the same manual calculation for the cost benefit analysis. I would also like to add that the statute specifies that the cost benefit analysis be conducted but that is all that it says. It doesn’t say it has to be a computerized analysis but clearly that is the best way to go if you are going to do it and that is what we have done with the request that I am bringing to you this morning. I’ve gone back to the companies and I’ve gotten additional information so we could do the computer analysis.

“Before we get into those requests, for the benefit of the public, I would like to show you some of the things that we have found in doing the computer analysis. I would also like to say that as I was briefing Commissioners, Commissioner Miller asked me well, specifically, what are the benefits. We know there are benefits, so I would just like to take a couple of minutes to show you what some of the benefits and the costs are.

“When a company builds a new building obviously we benefit from that because there are jobs for construction workers and everything that goes into the building of a building. I’m not going to go deeply into this but you can see that there are benefits. If they purchase furniture and fixtures for their offices and they pay sales tax on that. There is also spending locally by the construction workers. We receive certain fees on the construction of the building. Those are all benefits but there are costs.
Regular Meeting, October 8, 1997

“Sometimes a new road or street will have to be built to provide additional access to a company. There are some development costs by the County, some by the State. So there are costs and we need to weigh the costs against the benefits to see what is the best public policy in this matter.

SLIDE PRESENTATION

“There are also benefits from the operations of the firm after they make the investment and the expansion. The people they hire, they are creating new jobs. They spend money locally. There is sales tax. They may buy a house. There are a number of benefits that we receive when the company does expand. But again, there are costs. One is that there can be additional cost in utilities to the community. On the right hand side and I’m not going to go into this, it shows how the computerized model does the calculation. There are some additional benefits and costs. When people visit the company from out of State or out of the community, they frequently stay in hotels. They pour money into the local economy if they stay in a hotel in the City of Wichita and the City collects transient guest tax revenue from that. There are, however, some expenses in terms of providing services that the local government incurs. I believe that is as much detail as I’m going to go into.”

Commissioner Miller said, “I appreciate that Louanna.”

Ms. Burress said, “But we do carefully look at the costs and the benefits and as you are aware, every January I send a questionnaire out to the companies and ask them to give me specific information so that we can estimate the impact of the previous year of the expansion and also if they say they are going to create six jobs, then I want to know that they did create the six jobs. We’ve had a very good track record in Sedgwick County in having the companies do what they said they would do. If you have any questions on the cost benefit analysis I would address those. If not, then we will just continue with the exemption requests.”

Chairman Winters said, “Commissioner Miller.”

Commissioner Miller said, “Thank you Mr. Chairman. I do have a kind of summarizing question and possibly someone from Finance, I see Bill Buchanan, County Manager, has stepped back in. Louanna, do you know what the total amount of exemptions for Sedgwick County are?”
Ms. Burress said, “Yes I do. I have that with me if I want to see it.”

Commissioner Miller said, “I’ll hear it.”

Ms. Burress said, “Do you want me to go . . .”

Commissioner Miller said, “Oh, you have it. Do you have to go pull it?”

Ms. Burress said, “Oh no, it is in the millions of dollars.”

Commissioner Miller said, “Approximately how many companies would you say?”

Ms. Burress said, “Well, we give grant exemptions in the unincorporated area of the County. So we don’t have as many businesses in the unincorporated area as say the City of Wichita and even say some of the small cities. I believe we have maybe a total of five or six companies that have come to us requesting exemptions. It is these companies that are creating additional jobs and making a tremendous investment in themselves and in the community.”

Commissioner Miller said, “Typically, they are exempting what?”

Ms. Burress said, “We exempt real property, that is they build a building or they add an addition to an existing building. You can grant up to a ten year exemption on that. When they buy equipment to improve their productivity or if they want to start producing a new product then you can grant an exemption. Typically that is a five year exemption on personal property because that depreciates over time.”

Commissioner Miller said, “We don’t extend that out, we would only grant it again if they indeed brought on . . .”

Ms. Burress said, “Additional, yes. I would like to add that you don’t take any property off the tax role. Some people have the misconception that you do that. Once property goes on the tax role it stays on the tax role and they pay ad valorem taxes on that for as long as they own the property or the equipment. What you do is simply delay putting property on the tax role for a specified period of time. If it is real property it would be ten years.”
Regular Meeting, October 8, 1997

“Currently, you allow 100% exemption for the first five years on real property and then it declines over the next five years. You give 100% exemption on personal property for five years. The Legal Department, Appraiser, and myself are looking at our policies and we will be bringing revised policies to you to take a look at and if you are in agreement then to adopt to govern this program.”

Commissioner Miller said, “Is there a threshold in terms of numbers of employees or gross revenues of this particular business?”

Ms. Burress said, “There is nothing in the statute. If they create one additional job and you feel that the exemption is justified then you can approve.”

Commissioner Miller said, “And by showing that ratio of above one.”

Ms. Burress said, “Right. The computerized model, at the very bottom, summarizes all of the benefits and there is a dollar amount and it also summarizes all of the costs which again is a dollar amount, and it does it for each taxing district. If it is in the City it does the City, it does the County, it does the school district, any special taxing districts. There are totals and what I do is I take the total benefit amount, say for the County, and I divide that by the total cost amount and we come up with a ratio. If that ratio is greater than one then that demonstrates that there is a net benefit. Typically, what I’m finding is that the County can be anywhere from one and a half, close to two, the school districts do not fair as well, but if it is over one then it does show a benefit. In terms of the school district, we are required and we always give notice to the effected school district. The school district that the business is located in, we give them notice in writing of this public hearing so that if they want to come and address it, they can. Notice is also given so that the general public, if they want to come and voice their support or concern, can do that.”

Commissioner Miller said, “I appreciate the information. I think it just continues to educate the public because a lot of people simply do not understand the millions of dollars that are invested by a governmental body through these types of exemptions or aren’t quite understanding what the benefits are, so I thought it was proper to discuss benefits versus cost, why it is that we would choose to do these.”
Ms. Burress said, “Exactly. Because it does cost. When the County exempts ad valorem revenue, that is money that normally the local government would receive that you have chosen to not receive for a specified period of time and that is just to give a break to the businesses because they are investing their heart and soul and incomes to create these jobs. It is good for all of us. I think the Legislature was right in requiring a cost benefit analysis. We need to look and see what we are getting and what we are giving up. We’ve been able to show in every case that what we are getting is greater than what we are giving up.”

Commissioner Miller said, “Thank you. Thank you Mr. Chairman.”

Chairman Winters said, “Thank you. Commissioner Gwin.”

Commissioner Gwin said, “I guess you may have just answered my question. The cost benefit analysis that you did for these five items today, your ratio indicates that the benefits exceed the costs on each of these?”

Ms. Burress said, “Exactly. They do. I believe I put copies of that in the backup and if you want I can tell you what they are. They are all clearly above one and what I find interesting is the State, if anybody is a big winner, it is the State. Sometimes they are 20 and 25% on the benefit side.”

Commissioner Gwin said, “Thank you. Thank you Mr. Chairman.”

Chairman Winters said, “Thank you. Louanna, I see no other questions, so if you want to start walking through these five requests. Madam Clerk, why don’t you call Item B-1.”

1. REQUEST BY PRECISION PROFILING, INC. IN THE APPROXIMATE AMOUNT OF $1,868,006.

Ms. Burress said, “This is Precision Profiling, Incorporated. They are located in the County and they began operation in the County in 1978 as a machine shop for the aircraft industry. Over time they have grown and they prospered. They have made this investment of close to $2,000,000 and would appreciate an economic development tax exemption. What we need to do for each of these items is conduct a public hearing. At this time I would request you do that.”
Chairman Winters said, “At this time, concerning Item B-1, we would open the public hearing and receive public comment from the public. Is there anyone here who wishes to address the Board of County Commissioners concerning item B-1, a request by Precision Profiling? I see no one, so we will close the public hearing. Commissioners, you’ve seen the Resolution, what’s the will of the Board?”

Ms. Burress said, “This is the same company. They have gone ahead and done an additional expansion, above the one that we just took action on. I believe in the previous expansion they created six new jobs and the current expansion, they have increased employment by eight. Again, they’ve invested over $3,000,000 in this expansion and they respectfully request an exemption.”
Chairman Winters said, “At this time, we will open the public hearing to consider our Item B-2, a request by Precision Profiling. Is there anyone here in the meeting room who would like to address the Board of County Commissioners on this issue? Seeing no one, we’ll close the public hearing. Ms. Burress said, “Again, Excel Manufacturing is located in the County on Hoover Road. It has experienced tremendous growth over the last several years. As a matter of fact, they were able to acquire the assets of a company on the east coast and move them to Kansas. It’s a real success story. In this request, they invested over a million and a half dollars in the business and request an exemption.”
Regular Meeting, October 8, 1997

Chairman Winters said, “At this time we will open the public hearing to take comment on this item. This is our Item B-4, a request by Aero Machine. It was a very small operation but it has grown by leaps and bounds and Custom Cupboards has expanded significantly and are requesting an economic development tax exemption. Mr. Gerald Gibson, who is Chief Financial Officer with Custom Cupboards is here this morning. This is the first time they have come to us for such an exemption and I did want to introduce him.”

C. RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING TEMPORARY TRAFFIC MEASURES OCTOBER 26-29, 1997 FOR THE HEARTLAND FESTIVAL ‘97 TO BE HELD AT THE KANSAS COLISEUM.

Mr. Jarold D. Harrison, Assistant County Manager, greeted the Commissioners and said, “We were contacted by the staff of Heartland Festival ‘97, also known as the Franklin Graham Crusade. We’ve been doing quite a bit of work getting ready for this program to occur at the Kansas Coliseum October 26 through 29th. They are, based on their experience, expecting more than capacity crowds at the event and have secured the use of all of our facilities at the Coliseum complex as well as parking lots at the Greyhound Park for additional overflow parking.”
Regular Meeting, October 8, 1997

“Their concern is traffic flow in and around the Courthouse complex and they have asked that they be allowed to close a section of Hydraulic, 77th Street North through 85th Street North from 4:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on those four days that the festival will occur. During that time, from 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., the traffic would be routed as a one way north on that section of Hydraulic to help load into the Coliseum complex and between 8:00 and 10:30 p.m., that traffic would then be routed southbound one way to help unload the Coliseum parking lots. We request your approval of this Resolution and would be glad to answer any questions.”

Chairman Winters said, “Thank you. Jerry, you made one reference to the Courthouse complex, you meant the Coliseum complex.”

COMCARE made a decision earlier this year to contract out all of our security services. With the help of Purchasing, we put out a bid for this and Force-1 was the successful bidder. By contracting out these services, Sedgwick County in 1998 will save about $66,000. I would urge your approval of this contract.”

These families have a severely emotionally disturbed child or SED child. I would urge your approval of this Contract.”

I know I bring a number of these before you each week, but yesterday I had an opportunity train with an Instructor Coordinator from the western part of Kansas. I asked him, what do your students see by coming to Sedgwick County and doing their internship. These were paramedic students. She said you give us two things that we can’t get anywhere else. One, you give us volume of people so that they can have enough time to see people, treat people, assess people. Two, and this is where I really felt strongly when she told me this yesterday, you have personnel who care. You take care of our students. You ensure that they are learning and I can’t give you enough compliments on what you people do for our students. We should be proud of that from our own personnel but also you allow this to occur. So indirectly and directly, you have an effect on the care that is given across this State.”

Chairman Winters said, “Well thank you. I know we do see a lot of these and we begin to think they are routine but I think those are good comments for your staff and how you put that organization together. I know there are times when that could perhaps be seen by some of our crews as an extra burden they wished they didn’t have to deal with. So I think we are proud of the fact that we do have quality folks working in your department Tom and I think we are glad that they can provide that service. Thanks very much. Next item.”
