Common Questions About Trash and Recycling

Where can I dispose of bulky trash?

Bulky trash, such as old furniture, tree limbs, household appliances and electronics, and tires may be taken to one of two trash transfer stations in Sedgwick County. These locations are open to the public. Fees apply and extra fees apply to tires and any appliance with Freon.

- Waste Connections Transfer Station
4300 W. 37th St. N., 941-4320
- Waste Disposal Transfer Station
5550 W. 55th St. S., 522-3633

What should I do with left over construction and demolition (C&D) waste?

If you've ever remodeled a room in your house, such as a kitchen or bathroom, you likely had a lot of waste that couldn't be used anymore. If you have more waste than will fit in your trash bin, you can take items such as old cabinets, toilets, sinks, sheetrock, etc. to a construction and demolition landfill or a trash transfer station for disposal. These locations are open to the public and fees apply.

- CDR North

Note: commercially generated C&D is not accepted at the trash transfer stations.

What should I do with old paint, motor oil and other materials that can't be thrown away?

The Household Hazardous Waste Facility will accept almost all chemical items from a residential house, such as paint, aerosols, batteries, used oil, gasoline, antifreeze, pesticides, herbicides, garden chemicals, household cleaners, fluorescent bulbs, propane, and old, unwanted medication (no controlled substances). The HHW facility is located at 801 Stillwell in Wichita and is open 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday to Friday and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays; the facility is closed on Sundays and Mondays.

I still have questions about recycling; where can I get more information?

A guide to recycling in Sedgwick County can be found by visiting www.sedgwickcounty.org or by calling Environmental Resources at 660-7200. This guide is sorted by item and provides the names and addresses of local businesses that accept the items.

A video about trash service and recycling options also is available on the Sedgwick County website.
