The METROCOUNT brand of Portable Automatic Traffic Data Recorders are currently in use by the City of Wichita. The county chose to buy the same brand with its proprietary software which allows us to have data compatability with the City of Wichita recorders.

Both the City of Wichita and Sedgwick County perform many counts around the city's perimeter and this will allow us to swap data files with each other for the first time.

The City of Wichita owns and has used 100 of these recorders for about five years without a single operational problem other than scheduled replacement of the battery packs. Another brand currently being used by the county has had a 99% return rate on the 100 recorders purchased within the last four years.
