

Facts & DETAILS

2020 Real Property

How many value notices are mailed?

Approximately 174,000 real property value notices will be mailed for 2020, which is about 78 percent of the 224,500 properties in Sedgwick County.

Why are fewer notices being mailed?

The Sedgwick County Appraiser's Office will mail only value notices for properties that experience a change in the appraised value or classification from 2019. The Sedgwick County Appraiser's Office will save approximately $22,200 by using this alternative method of notification.

When will the value notices be mailed?

The 2020 value notices will arrive in mailboxes of owners whose values or classification changed beginning March 1.

If my value did not change, how do I get a notice?

Property owners who do not receive a notice in the mail may view the notice and appraisal information for their properties online at www.sedgwickcounty.org. Also, after March 1, property owners may print their notice from the website, which will include instructions on how to file an appeal.

How many of the value notices are considered residential and what percentage of these changed?

Of the approximate 175,000 residential parcels, 81 percent increased in value, 3 percent decreased in value, and 16 percent remained the same. The typical increase for residential property is 6 percent, the typical decrease is 5 percent. This excludes new construction and properties that changed use.

The typical increase for commercial property is 7 percent, the typical decrease is 5 percent. This excludes new construction and properties that changed use.

How many are considered agricultural property and what percentage of these changed?

Of the approximate 17,200 agricultural parcels, 30 percent increased in value; 40 percent decreased in value; and 30 percent remained the same. The typical increase for agricultural property is 29 percent, the typical decrease is 2 percent. This excludes new construction and properties that changed use.

Why do appraised values change?

Most value changes are the result of a changing market, new construction, property characteristics updates or deterioration, or market equalization. State law requires the county appraiser to maintain a median ratio of appraised value to sale price between 90 and 110 percent. Compliance with this standard is measured every year when the Property Valuation Division of the Kansas Department of Revenue performs its annual ratio study.

What can property owners do if they think their values are not at market value?

If property owners think their values do not reflect market value (i.e. they could not sell their property for that amount), they can fill out the back of their value notice and return it to the Sedgwick County Appraiser within 30 days of the mailed date shown on the front of the valuation notice.

A related note: Personal property renditions are due by March 15. Personal property value notices will be mailed on or before May 1, 2020.
