RESPONSES TO QUESTIONS

1 How can community members, community organizations, and/or businesses work together on the issues ranked as high importance and low/medium appropriateness? Please include what resources are needed to support these issues.

- Utilize the networks of community organizations to recruit community members to events. Use social media/videos to impact youth; allow space for them to create. Collaborate with minority businesses to bolster the need to circulate money within the community.
- For example, to best understand the education system, community organizers need insight from students themselves rather than their own biased opinion on what is important at school. To best understand a school community is more involvement with the school and better relationships.
- They need to have more meetings with the citizens in the community to understand each situations that is address on the front of this form.

2 Do you know any community members, community organizations, and/or businesses currently working on the issues ranked as high importance and low/medium appropriateness? If yes, please briefly describe the efforts and add a contact person, organization, or business name.

- There are quarterly neighborhood meetings where immediate community issues can be discussed and neighbors used as resources to resolve and help each other's needs. Start small with each community,
